

The Light Path
Lecture # 10

The Light Beings Speak

I ask the divine light guide us and protect us. I call forth the beings of light and love, truth and wisdom. And I ask now that all that we need for the divine enfolding of our souls, on all levels of our existence, manifest peacefully and lovingly.

It is now time upon the earth plane for those of you who have been initiated into seeing beyond what is seen, knowing beyond what is presented, hearing beyond what is played for you; for those of you who are aware that there are other levels of existence, it is now time for you to bring this relationship with the other energies into your daily existence. It is really important on the earth plane at this time to concentrate on the relationship between the individual and the shared consciousness of many realms.

It is important because the structures of the individuals have been used on the earth plane for several thousand years, and these structures are beginning to lose their energy. They are decreasing in their form and their power. If you do not align with a greater structure of thought and knowledge, a greater access to energy, you will feel as though your own individual lives are also crumbling. No one in this group wishes that. It is important to each day, not once a week or once a month, but each day to envision the vastness of existence around you --- the unending supply of existence around you and in you and through you. As you look around on your earth plane, it is important to notice the actualization of new thought forms that take place on the physical plane, so that you do not become consumed by the demolition of all thought forms and the structures they organized. We are repeating a message that we have said many times in the last 20 years and it needs to be repeated again so that those of you who focus on light and energy will know light and energy as you have never known it. If you focus on fear and panic and negative destructive energies you will experience them in ways that have never been experienced on earth. You are at a turning point of where you put your consciousness.

Hovering around the earth now are many visitors from many dimensions. Many of the teachers who have been revered in the past on the earth plane are coming near the earth at this time also. There are many visions, such as the mother visions, Christ appearing on walls, the sense of Patagialli walking among your midst. You have a sense of the great ones being among you and truly they are. Do not be afraid to focus on this. There will be temptations in the next two to three years, temptations to get consumed by fear. How can we encourage each of you to not allow this to happen? Is there a way that we need to speak to you to have you really understand that you do not need to be consumed by the negativity around you? It might seem next to impossible, but it is important. When you don't know how to shield yourself from the negatives, you can call in beings who have energetic energy that is more intense than yours. When you feel all the fears bouncing around and the angers, shield yourself. Envision shielding yourself with a circle of space beings, a circle of angels, with a circle of great masters -- Jesus, Buddha, Virgin Mary, Innana. You forget sometimes that they are here to serve you, that you are worthy to be served, that we are each worthy to be served.

It is an important part of staying protected and clear in this process. Know that those who hover near the earth wish to help, but can only help at times if you allow yourself to know that you are worthy, that you are worthy to receive. Imagine a space ship that is very loving, sending its rays of light down around you. Imagine its non-earth electrical light and nothing can penetrate around you; then go to work. It will be a little easier for you. Really allow yourself and say with your heart and with your soul, "I have the right and I am worthy to receive." Remember within your mind that many entities, teachers, helpers, servants and angels are created to feel alive and joyful within themselves when they serve. It is a mutual relationship.

Do you know how hard it is when you are with a child who is obviously allowing herself to be pushed around by the other kids? You can see a way for her to stand within herself and feel strong, and you would like to stand with her and put your arm around her, help her, and walk down the street. But she pouts and she pulls away and says, "No, no, no, no, I have to figure it out myself." You know how hard it is to stand back and not insist that you protect her?

That is the way that many teachers who are near the earth at this time feel towards those humans who are being bombarded by activity but insist on helping themselves, when they have a legion of helpers waiting to be with them. Do you understand?

Bravery and courage sometimes are not forging alone, out there all by yourself. It is really allowing yourself to be loved, cared for, and protected. Making it easier is not sinful. It is not a sign of weakness or childhood; it is actually a sign of wisdom. All of the great prophets and teachers have allowed people to serve them, to wait on them, to help them, to feed them, to wash their feet, to carry things for them. They knew that their work on the earth was big enough to not do alone, that they could receive the help of community, of love. Existing on the earth at this time is big enough! Existing and holding a positive thought form is big enough. You don't need to do it alone. The earth cannot wait any longer for people to realize this. The healing of the earth, moving it into the next evolutionary stage can only come through mutual cooperation. Not giving up your individual core, not giving up that but allowing a give and take that is based on mutual freedom.

The earth plane is a beloved gift. In other planes of existence and in many universes, what is needed is created through thought or image or intention and when you don't need it anymore, it dissipates. On the earth plane what is needed is created through thought, need, intention, impulse, desire, and creativity and it lasts for a very long time, sometimes thousands of years. So you really get a chance to observe what you've created. You get to see the ramifications of creativity. That is the gift of the earth plane. It is almost as if the great Spirit created the earth existence to have a mirror for itself, to see how it is created.

So each of you has chosen to come here; you are very honored in the universe. You are revered. Sometimes, Spirit is also aware on other planes that you don't know how to dismantle what you have created that does not work any more. That's part of the learning process, that not many humans have yet learned how to do. So very often humans turn to violence to dismantle creations. Only when you move towards dismantling aspects of thought, emotion or body, forms that you no longer wish, by dismantling through love will earth be a mature planet. Do you understand?

For instance, you have a thought form that you created this life time. Say at age eight, you created a thought form, and the thought form said, "When I grow up, I'm going to be rich." That is a definite thought form, is it not? Your whole being then subconsciously starts to work around driving you towards being in positions of being rich. Perhaps you would put aside some joyful activities, perhaps you would put aside creative activities and go towards jobs or partners or situations that would bring forth being rich. Very often there is an awaking of looking at what you've done and a realization that the thought form, that decision, is leading you away from the joy in life. At that point, some people die, because they do not know how to change their lives to get away from that thought form. In reality, they would need to create a new thought form that matched who they were in the moment. For instance, I can enjoy my adulthood through all the richness of life. That dismantles the old thought form in a loving way. We're not asking you to totally dismantle your life or to kill yourselves. Do you understand?

Part of human consciousness is the power to dismantle, to destroy, to change in a loving way. The ancients on the earth created gods and goddesses of destruction because it is a part of the earth consciousness. Look at the forms you wish to change -- thought forms, physical forms, etc. -- and ask yourself: "How can I dismantle this in a loving way?" Not roughly, critically, abruptly, forgetfully, but lovingly -- a focused and loving way. See dismantling as an important part of the earth learning process. Do you understand?

We see in the human society that you all have created that humans have not yet learned how to do this, to dismantle lovingly. If you can each learn how to do this in your individual lives, you will be helping societies to learn this. Look at what is happening on your earth plane. Many of the civilizations, the governments and the systems do not work. Rather than lovingly dismantle them and say, "All right, the way we set up this country or that government or this school doesn't work. Let's just take it apart, honor it, take it apart and build something new.", what do humans do? They let it crumble. They let it move into destruction. They let it move into violence. They try to kill each other rather than changing something, and finally out of desperation, a visionary comes up with a new way.

Part of coming together as a mature consciousness, a mature planet, is to learn how to lovingly destroy what is no longer needed. Each of you, in your own lives, can look at this and say, "What system -- what feeling system, thought system, physical form system, work system -- what system do I live in that no longer matches the level of consciousness I exist in?" Or, "Where do I wish to move consciously and how can I lovingly dismantle it? Lovingly. So that I can equally lovingly create a new form to match my new consciousness?" Love is not just creating something new. It is also taking apart something that does not have any use any more.

Death is the ultimate dismantling. So many humans have not yet learned how to treat death of themselves or their loved ones in a loving way. They fear it; they anger at it; they move into it with violence. It is just dismantling a body that no longer matches the soul's journey anymore. If you need help in this dismantling state, do not be afraid to call upon the gods and goddesses of destruction. Goddess Kali... Look what Madame Pele does: she burns down her mountain so she can make a new island. Don't be afraid of it, it is part of the process.

It is essential that earth learn this lesson since so much is coming to the end of its usefulness. If earth doesn't learn this lesson, much will have to be destroyed violently. That is not necessary. It's not too late to move towards transformation through dismantling, through positive destruction, through letting go, through allowing things to die in their energy, to die in their action, to let them go.

It is really important in this process upon the earth plane at this time-- as the earth change, as entities come close to the earth to help the earth change -- for those of you, as we have said before, willing to help the facilitation of change to allow the ending of things in yourself and around you. Allow it as part of a process, not as an action in and of itself, but as part of a process, and therefore, to be welcomed and celebrated as much as the beginnings are celebrated.

Before we go, we are going to envision giving each of you a light. This is a dissolving light. If you wish to receive it, envision it being placed in the palms of your hands. This light could be used to dissolve the energy around any action, thought or feeling that you feel imprisoned by. Allow the energy to be given to you and then move it up your hands and arms into your heart. We are now placing it in your hands. Put it in storage in your heart where you can call upon it whenever you wish.
