

The Light Path
Lecture # 11

The Light Beings Speak

I ask the divine light guide us and protect us. I call forth the beings of light and love, truth and wisdom. And I ask now that all that we need for the divine enfoldment of our souls, on all levels of our existence, manifest peacefully and lovingly.

We wish to speak with you today about an aspect of the earth plane. There is something happening within the perceptual level of the earth plane at this time. There is a lot of energy being given to the mental aspect of human development. For those of you who have been practicing with the light and practicing with the spirit, understand that in order for the mind to balance its perceptions in a way that doesn't disrupt life, it needs to be in integration with the spirit, with the emotions and with the body. Not everyone has this awareness.

There are many on the earth plane that because of the times, technology and the speed at which information is shared, are addicted to thinking; not to immediate thought processes but to immediate flashes of knowledge about things. They are not getting centered in the physical form or the energetic body. To those of you sensitive to imbalances and the light, we want to suggest that you work within your own families and communities to always bring realizations of the mind into balance with feelings, body and spirit. Always be the one who calls this awareness into action with people you know, people you are dialoguing with and situations you are in. Be the ones reflective of balance, because the drug that is being used around the world right now is this flash of facts.

Whether it is through the television, the newspapers, email or through the Internet, it is all these facts, facts, facts, facts. What is happening is that there is a desensitization of human feelings. There is a stepping away from connectedness to the whole. There is a buildup of separation.

It seems that everyone is connecting more because everyone knows more. In reality, there is an intensification of the separation of beings. In this separation, there is restlessness, unrest and despair. It is perhaps a pollution from the way that facts are being used, in the way facts have become worshipped. It is as if facts have their own reality away from action, away from integration, away from humanness. This very important: to bring some balance to the environment that facts are only important as they serve the human spirit, or reflect the human spirit. Away from the human experience, facts in themselves do not have much reality.

What we see happening and happening rather quickly is a tantalization of feelings being transferred to this input of facts. This is causing a separation of the heart centers, a separation of the spirit.

It is important for those of you who understand the greater vision and the broader world to be the voice, to be the ones who speak the truth. To say, "Yes, it is exciting to know all this but how is it going to be used? How are we using it to connect with each other? How are we using it to love each other? How are we using it to improve?" You may find yourself in certain circumstances where you can just use one sentence to add a thought to a conversation, or to a group, or even with yourselves: "You've got all the information, now what?"

The children who are coming in now don't understand why they feel so restless. They don't understand why they're feeling so pressured. There is this feeling that there is so much information out there and you should feel easier about learning. Learning is a whole system process, it is not just the gathering of facts. The pressure on children right now is tremendous. Part of the importance of the work that you are doing within your own beings is integrating and expanding and learning how to focus your energy. Part of the importance of this is in learning to blend and integrate all of the charge that is coming to the earth, because all of these facts give out little electrical charges that are floating around each of you. Each time you breathe, each time you ground your energy, each time you bring it deeper within yourself, you are helping to balance the charge and bring a little more balance to the mental aspect of the earth plane.
