

The Light Path
Lecture # 5 of Year Two

The Light Beings Speak

I ask the divine light guide us and protect us. I call forth the beings of light and love, truth and wisdom. And I ask now that all that we need for the divine enfoldment of our souls, on all levels of our existence, manifest peacefully and lovingly.

We are waiting for all the teachers and helpers to settle down. There are a lot of little fairies in this room, dancing around. It seems that what we are to speak of today is the relationship and continuing presence of non-human entity beings around you and their role in your awakening and your enlivening and your peacefulness.

We will start with the fairies, for they are here. These are entities that are light beings from the energy fields of the being of Earth. As you well know, the entity of Earth is a being unto herself: a beautiful creative being that has light centers and organs and light bodies just as you have. Some of the angels that are helping Earth, that are near her, appear as what you label fairies. They are working to balance the electro-magnetic field of Earth being and to provide a pathway of communication between that field and all of the beings and creative forms upon her. Whenever those of light and those of love and those of energetic beings as you are, gather together, you provide a space for these entities to come forth and to be with you. Their blessing and their gift to you is an openness to the pathway of receiving Earth's energy. If you are feeling depleted, exhausted, tired, or if you're feeling out of your body and disconnected from the being of Earth, you can call upon the fairies to help reconnect you to the energetic body of the being of Earth. That is why they like to dance around your legs and feet. They are trying to weave a new connection.

The fairies are working with you in all different ways. For some of you, they are working on your elbows. Some of you, they are working on your shoulders. Some of you are really getting help with your lower backs and hips. They are quite busy here. It might help if, at times, you just bring yourself into nature and close your eyes and ask the fairies and angels of Earth being to bless you with their love and their energy. Even if you do not see them, even if you do not feel them, know that they are close and helping.

There is another level of helpers who are quite present at this time. They are the keepers of Earth's mind. Often these entities appear to people in meditations as the wise beings, the elders, the ancient beings, the eternal ones. They are the beings who have set in motion human consciousness and who are in constant communication with those who are allowing their consciousness to open to their presence. They will come to you in meditation when you go within yourself and when you ask for the wise beings, you will receive their presence. They live within the mind of Earth and they live within your mind. They are the ancient ones and in relating to them, you will find great peace, for you will remember that you are an evolving conscious being. As an evolving conscious being, whatever you are working on at a particular time is part of your greater evolution. It is not something that is limited to this moment, and therefore must be totally understood in this moment. It will be an evolution. Several of you have been working with these inner beings.

That is one level of entity that is working with this consciousness. There is another level of helpers that come from Earth, and that is the healers, the heart focus beings, the beings of great love and compassion, the teachers who manifest over and over again in human form to bring you into relationship with love. Then once you come into relationship with love, you meet them on other planes of the human heart.

In relationship to these eternal heart centered beings, there are many helpers which you would call love angels, that come from the place of Earth heart, the spiritual heart. These angels have been coming close to all of you in this group, for the love that you share together is an energetic absorption point for this energy. Each time you have compassion for each other, each time you touch each other with understanding, each time you forgive each other for misunderstandings, each time you speak truth lovingly, you are creating a temple that the eternal Earth spiritual love can manifest itself and therefore radiates out from here towards others.

Now we're going beyond this level of Earth plane. We are going into the mind level, pure creative mental space of Earth plane. There are teachers on this level. There manifest pure creative energy on this level. There are archetype wise beings that hover over you on this level. There is the pure energetic thought energy that maintains the form of Earth and therefore your form. The teachers of this plane work with your thought forms to help energize them toward greater light. Some of you have these teachers working with you intensely at this moment.

The universe is this very neutral being. Think of it as a big warehouse and the only way the universe knows what to give you is what you call for or the way you treat yourself. If you treat yourself with a lot of criticism, it thinks you love criticism and creates situations with lots of criticism. If you treat yourself with forgiveness and compassion and fun, it creates situations to match that. It believes you. It doesn't know otherwise.

So that is another level of human guidance and human help. As we move out on Earth being, we're moving now to non-physical bodies, to the pure light body. The pure light body of Earth plane generates an essence of love. This essence flows through all of Earth and Earth beings. It is what maintains your consciousness, your form, your energy. It is the energy that maintains her. The helpers on this being are energy beings, pure light source energy beings. They don't come to you in a sense of a particular being or like an elder, or a wise being, or an angel. They are pure energy beings that come with a flush of energy. They come with an opening, they come with a healing. They come with a help of the flow of energy through your being. It is a little harder, perhaps, for Earthlings to call forth the helpers of this plane, because you're not going to see anything, you're not going to be directly able to relate energetically or form wise. These beings don't look like angels, or goddesses, or wise beings. They are just energy. So, just say thank you when you feel your energy more loving toward yourself; when you feel your energy more alive, when you feel your energy more attuned to others. Know that they have been with you and just say thank you. Do you understand? Of course, they are with everyone at all times and they are here as much as you allow them to be.

Going beyond the being of Earth, into the spatial aspects, there are many entities that come from other parallel existences, from other conscious planes, from other solar systems, and from other galaxies. These entities find ways to come into relationship with the being of Earth, first, and then to those who are on Earth. Many of you have been seeking relationships with these non-Earth beings. We want to encourage you today to choose which beings you want to visit with. Do you want beings from another galaxy who can open up your mind and your heart to other creative entities? Do you want beings from parallel existences to Earth that can help show that what you're living can be looked at in a different perspective? Do you want beings from other star systems to show you how they relate to each other and therefore how you relate to other consciousnesses in other solar systems? For truly you must know, you are not the only consciousness in existence.
