

The Light Path
Lecture #1 of Year Three

The Light Beings Speak

I ask the divine light guide us and protect us. I call forth the beings of light and love, truth and wisdom. And I ask now that all that we need for the divine enfoldment of our souls, on all levels of our existence, manifest peacefully and lovingly.

Yes, dear ones on the light path, we want to speak to you tonight of the responsibility you have freely chosen and accepted by wanting and desiring this course. You have been learning to access truth through the light wisdom through the heart energy, through the chakra system, and it is important to know that you have been doing this not just for your own stability and joy, nor a small circle of people around you (family, friends, etc.). No, indeed, you have been called to do this to help earth evolve into the next stage of development, to help the consciousness of the collective mind of earth move from its addiction of struggle, sacrifice, pain and loneliness to the freedom of love, peace and community of conscious beings.

As a member of the collective, yet maintaining the integrity of the individual, sometimes it seems a challenge, but it can become a playful, joyful experience if you allow it to be. We hear some of the snickers around that. What we suggest to you is to imagine playing with consciousness, playing with light. Imagine reaching up to the collective and bringing down aspects of enlightened beings and trying them on for size. Become Buddha or the Blessed Mother. Just like a child dresses up to prepare for adulthood, when you dress up in the thought forms of enlightened beings you are preparing yourself to be enlightened. Just play with it in this point of your evolution.

It is essential during this time on the earth, when the shadow rises up to be strong and tempts people to forget that God created all conscious worlds in order to have company, not to watch people suffer. It is in the forgetfulness that suffering is fed. So play with the light, the energy in your chakras, spinning around and radiating everywhere. Watch yourself walk into a room and see how many people and how many spots you can illuminate with the light in your heart. Walk through a park or the woods and envision the light in your heart pouring out your hands; see how many spaces in the park you can bless with light. Close your eyes and walk around and see if you can feel the trees and the rocks responding back to your light. Play, play, play.

If you pretend for a day that you are Einstein then you will act as if everything you do is to feed your creative mind and make sense to you. You can walk around being curious about everything. If you become the great goddess Isis for a day, you will expect everyone to respect you and honor you, to see the mighty mother shining through your eyes. What you are doing, by bringing down the aspects from the collective consciousness and trying them on, is bringing heaven to earth at a time when earth sometimes feels like it is sinking into hell. Hell is only the forgetfulness of love and joy.

Dear ones, we are at times serious with you, but we cannot stress enough that during this serious time, we encourage you to be one who brings balance and light, one who remembers the creative energy of spirit. In the coming times, as civilization makes major jumps in the way that it functions, you will be called upon to use your wisdom, experience and intuition, so don't run ahead to that experience, just prepare yourself. It will come by itself. Know that we are always with you.

Thank you.
