

The Light Path
Lecture #5 of Year Three

The Light Beings Speak

I ask the divine light guide us and protect us. I call forth the beings of light and love, truth and wisdom. And I ask now that all that we need for the divine enfoldment of our souls, on all levels of our existence, manifest peacefully and lovingly.

This is a time of great transformation. There are many souls who are waking up now to realize that they can affect their lives and affect the life of earth. More and more each day this realization comes into the light of human consciousness. There is this dance between those who still struggle for survival and struggle to release themselves from the negative thought forms of deprivation and sacrifice and those on the earth now who are realizing the power of positive energy, who are realizing that all form is created for souls to know themselves, not for souls to define themselves.

This is an important difference. Souls define themselves through their spiritual relationship with the Creator, through the evolution of the awareness of this relationship, and the living in all bodies of the energy of this relationship. Too often humans have thought that form and action have created their realities. It just seemed to make sense that the wars and the natural disasters and the enemies in society, the dictators and rulers, all seemed to have the power to create reality for most humans.

It is beginning to be known by many that form is organized by the soul, and form can be changed through consciousness. The lesson that is important for each of you as facilitators of light consciousness is to face each day and say, “What am I creating today so that I can see my soul playing with reality?”

When challenges or difficulties come upon you, rather than feeling that they are structuring you and putting too much demand upon you, you can move into the freedom of accepting that your soul has either drawn these events to you or allowed you to be synergistically in alignment with them in order to create a certain experience. These experiences are the way the soul creates consciousness, but it is the spirit’s energy of the divine that drives the soul to seek this consciousness.

It is important to let go of an attachment to feeling victimized. Bad things are not happening to you; in your core, you are allowing these things to be in your path. It becomes essential, in your seeking for knowingness and awareness of your being, to scan and review your life, to look at what your soul is creating to learn. So, if you are in a storm, what is your soul seeking for you to learn? See that it is the most perfect way in the moment to learn it. Even though it might be physically challenging, the storm is no longer your enemy, but a tool of your consciousness.

It is important to look at all of your life this way, as tools to your consciousness. It is also important to look at the guardians and helpers that your soul has drawn to you as tools to consciousness. Too often, those on earth, when they pray or seek guidance, take themselves out of the picture, see themselves as powerless, when in reality God has affirmed over and over, "You will do as I do". If the great creator organizes the angelic realms, then you, too, are organizing the angelic realms. So, looking at the help you are receiving from mentors on earth to angelic beings in the heavens, ask yourself once again, "What is my soul seeking to experience?" It is a relationship between you and the helpers of consciousness, between you and God. You become the lover of the Goddess/God within you.

What we are trying to encourage in this lecture is for you to use your intuition and listen to your soul, to use your heart, to surrender to your spirit, and then use your action to express what your heart and mind know. Action aligned with the partnership of your soul becomes a creative force in the world. If you use action as a way to seek your soul, you are off course and losing energy. The soul is, the spirit is; it is a matter of surrendering to this truth. You don't need to know anything, but, in surrendering, you know everything. That is the key to peace. Know that we are always with you.
