

The Light Path
Lecture # 2

The Light Beings Speak

I ask the divine light guide us and protect us. I call forth the beings of light and love, truth and wisdom. And I ask now that all that we need for the divine enfoldment of our souls, on all levels of our existence, manifest peacefully and lovingly.

We wish to speak now of the aspect of spiritual journeying that some of you have been moving toward and some of you have been coming into an awareness of: that of Self. And by Self, we mean the greater Self, the Self that lives in all dimensions, the soul that moves with spirit, that comes from the great void and is not attached to any particular part of you, and yet loves and embraces all parts of you.

Some of you have been aware that you are an aspect, reflection, or an action of this Self. But it is causing much disruption in your system, to fully grasp the magnitude of your own existence. And we wish to encourage you through speaking about it and reminding you that it is natural to live in this vastness. You have been created to be a vast, eternal, ever present, ever reflecting, ever expressing energy. You will not stop being. You will not reach the capacity of yourself. For you already exist in the fullness of yourself. Your awareness will continue to grow of the vastness of yourself.

The idea of striving to become spiritual -- we hear this thought in so many of you: "I am working so hard at it. I am trying to let go." How can we encourage you to move beyond this framework of thinking? To move beyond the framework of trying to be something that you already are. (Seems to be a bit of a waste of energy.) Instead, we would like you to move to the aspect of allowing the awareness of yourself to guide each aspect of the expression of yourself. You are not a person trying to be a spirit. You are already a spiritual entity expressing yourself through your personhood. Your person does not need to try to become identified with the spirit. Your person needs to remember the true base of its identity, the spirit.

This is a time on the Earth plane when there is a development of many levels of awareness of connection. Whether it is through your technology of being aware that you can speak to each other at any time around the globe. Or an awareness of your visual imprints. Or an awareness of what you move on the Earth, moves around the earth. What air you nurture, is nurtured around the Earth. What air you pollute, is polluted around the Earth. This is a time of connection. This is not a time that connection is made, but it is time when the human race becomes aware of its connection.

So, during this time, it is an opportune time to remember the awareness of your spirit. Not that you are finding your spirit, but that you are becoming aware of the vastness and the connection your spirit has with all spirit. We are discussing this, because there is so much potential now upon the Earth plane to receive connection with other dimensions, with each other, with other aspects of your Earth race: the animals, the plants. The lines of connection in the mind space of the human race are being wakened very quickly. These lines of connection were planted in human consciousness but they are coming into an awakening now. It is almost as if the light bulb is being turned on, but it was always there.

But there is a tendency of the human ego to think that it must control this process. That it has actually created this process. And therefore it should glorify itself through this process. And we would rather the ego celebrate this process and become the servant, become the one that carries the message of the greater self to the outer world. That carries the message, almost the one that carries the synapse from one great aspect of being to another great aspect of being, rather than creating the aspects themselves.

This is an intense time because of the potential for illusion and the potential for deep, peaceful connection with others. So many are dancing between this awakened connection and the desire to build illusions of it.

We smile each time we see the human race trying to find itself in other universes. This is an example of the ego, is it not? If the human race would just take a moment and feel the universality of the spirit, it would know itself as it exists itself in other universes. And therefore would not have to seek its human self there. It would know its universal Self.
